GENERAL STUDY CONDITIONS

A. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Enrollment: Programmes and dates for study are met, the SRH Fernhochschule promptly examines submitted documents and starts enrolment procedures.

2. Minimum number of participants: In the event of an insufficient number of participants, the SRH Fernhochschule reserves the right to cancel the start of a study programme or to postpone it. In that case, you will receive instant notification.

B. COURSE OF THE STUDY

1. Degree: The student completes his or her study programme within the standard course duration of 2 or 4 semesters earning the degree of Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Arts (M.A.) or Master of Science (M.Sc.). All exams are conducted by the SRH Fernhochschule.

2. Study fees: The SRH Fernhochschule charges study fees for its services. More information on study fees can be found in the according study programme descriptions. A party pays the fees, the parties are jointly and severally liable for the total costs.

3. Additional Services: Enroles can sign up for additional subjects, modules and seminars as well as take related exams. These additional bookings are fee-based services, which must be coordinated with the study managers. As an additional fee, paper versions of study materials can be obtained for 15,- € per study letter.

4. Acknowledgement and full recognition of examinations: Equivalent examination performances that were rendered at another study institution can be acknowledged and/or fully recognized (including the grade). Additional details can be found in the study programme’s current study and examination regulations. At the end of the study programme, study fees will be reduced by 40,- € per acknowledged credit point, accordingly.

5. Part-time: Starting with the second month of studying, students can change the form of the study programme and enter part-time studies. Monthly student fees are reduced accordingly. The total amount of study fees stays the same.

6. Vacation semester: In cases of sickness or other personal hindrances, students can apply for a vacation semester (which lasts 6 months). Up to 2 vacation semesters are approved within the study programme. Any rights and obligations arising from this contract are suspended during a vacation semester for both the student and the SRH Fernhochschule. There are no study fees during a vacation semester. The contract cannot be cancelled during this time. However, students can take permissible repeat exams during a vacation semester.

7. Extension/reduction of study duration: If the study objective of programmes with a standard period of 2 semesters is not reached within 24 months (which equates to 4 semesters) or, respectively, if the study objective of programmes with a standard period of 4 semesters is not reached within 48 months (which equates to 8 semesters), any further semester entails administrative fees of 90,- € per month. If a study programme is concluded before the end of the regular duration of the study programme, the total study fees are not affected.

8. Exams/Thesis: There are several examinations during the study period. They require the student’s personal presence during attendance seminars or at one of the examination centres of the SRH Fernhochschule. The study programme concludes with a final thesis (Master-Thesis) and a colloquium.

9. Composition of participants for supporting events: The study modules feature accompanying supporting events (e.g., lectures). Both certification course participants and students can take part in these events.

10. House rules: Students are obligated to follow the house rules of involved training institutions.

11. Change of facilities: The SRH Fernhochschule is entitled to change local facilities for supporting events, as long as there is an appropriate pre-notification as well as the new location is in reasonable proximity. Attendance lectures with a low number of participants for a location or elective module can be changed into an online lecture. If there are less than 3 applicants for a supporting event 14 days before it is to take place, the SRH Fernhochschule reserves the right to cancel an attendance lecture.

12. Course of study: The course of study follows the programme’s current study and examination regulations as well as the current implementing regulations.

C. MEDIA USED IN THE STUDIES

1. Internet access: A fee and unimpeded access to a PC with internet access (DSL is recommended) is a necessary condition for the use of the university’s intranet and its e-learning modules as well as to receive any study materials from the university’s download portal. A current operating system is also required. To ensure an efficient participation in attendance lectures for study modules concerning statistics (provided that they are part of the study programme), bringing a personal laptop is recommended.

The E-Campus is an integral part of the university’s study concept and includes the university’s legally binding information. An active participation within the E-Campus network is a necessity for obtaining the E-Campus credits. 3. Study materials: The student receives study materials (either as study letters, books, guiding texts or downloadable files) after he or she books a new study module. Students are free to manage their own time when making use of the materials. The university retains title of ownership to the delivered study materials until the corresponding semester fees have been paid in full. The student is obligated to comply with the copyrights, related to the materials, contents and media – in its digital forms as well – and to neither copy teaching materials nor hand them over to third parties.

There are no study fees during the four-week trial period. Any materials sent to the students must be sent back at the latest after 14 days after the withdrawal. If the students continue the study programme after the four-week trial period, this period will be counted as part of the regular study duration and calculated as such.

2. Contract period/notice period: The minimum contract period is 6 months. The first-time possibility to terminate this contract is after the end of the first six months following the conclusion of contract, subject to a term of 6 weeks and, after that, at any time with 3 months’ notice to be issued in written form (recommended: by registered letter) to the end of the month.

The referral application must be filed before the corresponding due date. If payments were properly made up to that point, the application is discarded and students can continue with their studies without interruption.

4. Damage liability: Any liabilities of the SRH Fernhochschule, irrespective of their legal grounds, which are associated with the use of equipment or premises and travel to or from destinations from the premises of training centres are limited to intent and gross negligence.
